144-Year-Old U.S. Tradition Is Flung Aside

Convention Ignores President's Message That He Had No "Desire Or Purpose" To Be a Candidate

By W. B. RAGSDALE
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, July 18.—Franklin D. Roosevelt was re-nominated for president early today by a Democratic national convention which, with a thundering disregard for precedent, flung aside the 144-year-old two-term tradition.

Ignoring the president's message that he had no "desire or purpose" to be a candidate, the delegates gave him 946 13-15 votes on a first ballot roll call to a collective 148 1-15 for four other candidates.

Each of the others quickly removed himself from the field, and the nomination was made unanimous.

CLOSING BURMA ROAD DEFENDED BY CHURCHILL

Britain Hopes For Equitable Peace Between Japan and China

By FREDERICK KUCH
British United Press Exclusive Cable

LONDON, July 18.—Prime Minister Winston Churchill told a cabinet House of Commons today that Great Britain agreed to cut off war materials to China for three months in the hope that an equitable peace could be achieved in the Far East and that Britain was "prepared to offer our collaboration and our contribution."

The British contribution, Churchill said, was a renewal of the government's 1939 declaration of willingness to negotiate, after conclusion of peace, with a free and independent China for abolition of foreign extra territorial rights, return to China of concessions granted foreign powers and recolonization of the country.

Great Britain, he said, has given full consideration in this connection to the attitude of Soviet Russia and the United States, which viewed the closing of the Burma Road as

GERMANS TRY TO HIDE EFFECTS OF RAIDS ON REICH

LONDON, July 18.—Germany is doing everything she can to hide from the Dutch people the effects of the continual Royal Air Force raids on western Germany and recently Netherlands. The German press is trying to give a false picture of the situation across the frontier. The British Broadcasting Corporation reported last night, "The Dutch have to be careful what they say about the effects of the raids on the Reich. The BBC said: 'The situation across the frontier is perfectly normal except for that curious new phenomenon we observe every night, the 'eastern light.' Great fires can be seen every night after the British bombers have been over.'"

WINNIPEG, July 18.—Major Gen. W. A. Griesebach, Inspector-General for western Canada, arrived here today for an inspection of the Military District No. 10 training centres.

Action came after Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York, platform committee chairman, read the document.

For the second successive day rain forced the grandstand show at the Edmonton Exhibition Association's summer fair into the Arena Wednesday. It was to have been the Citizens' Day at the Exhibition and officials looked for the week's biggest crowd. Nazi Plot To Loot Europe Reported In London Newspaper

LONDON, July 18.—Under the heading "Nazi Plot To Loot Europe," the Daily Telegraph reported today that London economic circles have learned that Germany is purchasing large quantities of supplies in the countries it dominates after deprecating the national currencies of those territories.

The Nazis are said to have depreciated the French franc 20 per cent in accepting devalued francs for their goods, the newspaper reported.

Churchill Says Exodus Of Children To States, Dominions Unwarranted

Prime Minister Does Not Believe Military Situation Requires Evacuation — Proposed Plan Not Physically Possible

LONDON, July 18.—Prime Minister Churchill told the House of Commons today that an exodus of children to the dominions and the United States is unwarranted, and that he did not believe the military situation required it.

Mr. Churchill said the proposed exodus is not physically possible, and that what offers of homes overseas are accepted will be shared fairly by rich and poor.

"I must frankly admit that the full hearings of this question were not appreciated by the British government at the time it first was raised," he said.

"It was not foreseen that the mild exodus given to this plan would lead to a movement of such dimensions, and that a crop of alarmist and depressing rumors would follow as its tail, detrimental to the interests of national defence."

"I take full responsibility for the steps originally taken and I ask for the indulgence of the House on account of the many difficulties through which we have been passing."

RELATIVE DANGERS
"Nothing in the nature of a large scale exodus from this country should take place and I do not believe the military situation requires or justifies such a proceeding, having regard to the relative dangers of going and staying, nor in fact, it is physically possible."

The prime minister's statement was prompted by F. S. Corks, Labor, who asked if, in view of the fact that large scale evacuation of children overseas was an important factor in the military defence of Britain, the government would reconsider its decision to postpone the exodus.

SCHEME POSTPONED
The prime minister emphasized that the scheme had been postponed, not abandoned.

Any further emigration that may be possible, he continued, will be regulated on a basis of restoring balance between the clauses and not in pursuance of any policy of returning the children to their parents.

Asked if it were not possible to send small parties of 50 or 60 children, Mr. Churchill replied, "It may be, but I could not give a guarantee as to the times and numbers."

REDUCTION OF BOND INTEREST MAGOR ADVICE

"Only Thing Government Could Do," Low Tells Committee

OTTAWA, July 18.—Reduction of interest rates payable on Alberta's bond indebtedness in June, 1936, was on recommendation of R. J. Magor, prominent Montreal industrialist, who is retained as a financial adviser to the government, Hon. Solon Low, provincial treasurer, today told the Commons banking and commerce committee.

Mr. Magor's advice on the whole financial set-up was adopted in full, Mr. Low told the committee, but he could not say at once if it was in writing. "It is a written report," he said.

"It is right for me to say whether it is right or wrong," Mr. Low said, on the question of the province's right to break its contract with bondholders, "but I do say that under conditions obtaining at

MULLEN ASKS WHEAT BOARD TO BUY CROP

Also Urges 87½ Cents A Bushel As Minimum In Ottawa Submission

Purchase and marketing of Western Canadian wheat crops for the duration of the war by the Dominion government, through the Canadian Wheat Board, has been recommended by Hon. D. B. Mullen, Alberta minister of agriculture, to Hon. James A. MacKinnon, Dominion minister of trade and commerce. Establishment of a minimum price of 87½ cents a bushel is also urged.

Mr. Mullen announced Thursday he had communicated his recommendation to Mr. MacKinnon.

"If favorable climatic conditions continue and Alberta is permitted to harvest the wheat crop, 1939 is a possibility we may harvest in the neighborhood of approximately 1,000,000 bushels of wheat, 800,000 bushels of oats, 500,000 bushels of barley and 400,000 bushels of flax," said Mr. Mullen.

Surplus Stocks
In view of the surplus stocks of wheat in storage and a demand for wheat for the duration of the war, the Dominion government, through the Canadian Wheat Board, is urged to purchase and market the wheat crop of Western Canada for the duration of the war.

Furthermore, the Dominion government guarantee to the farmer a minimum price of 87½ cents per bushel for No. 1 Northern wheat, Grade No. 1 Northern, having consideration for the high Alberta freight rates, and cost of transport, it would appear this price is the minimum the Alberta farmer should be paid.

NAZI RAIDS ON BRITISH ISLES MISS TARGETS

Britain Considers Possibility Of Trouble From Spain

LONDON, July 18.—Nazi airmen slashed today at England, Wales, Scotland and British shipping in the English Channel, but reports indicated they all missed vital targets.

Over the Channel six dive bombers attacked ships. An eye-witness to the encounter said it was apparent none of the ships was hit, but one of the raiders was believed shot down by fighter planes or anti-aircraft fire from the vessels.

The German raid spread to Scotland, where a bomber dropped three high explosive and several incendiary bombs on a northeast town. The bombs fell in an open space. One house was damaged slightly.

A single German plane staged a machine-gun attack on a village in northeastern England. At midday German raiders bombed a small town in Wales. No considerable damage was reported.

Fighting planes drove off a lone raider from another Welsh town where no bombs were dropped.

A woman was killed by bomb splinters in the northeast Scotland town of Aberdeen.

Casualties in one southeast town included four elderly persons reported killed.

A raider was driven from a southwest England town by anti-aircraft

Slashing Power Of Lion's Paw Destroys 2,548 Nazi Aircraft

By DREW MIDDLETON
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, July 18.—When we came some military authorities conceded Britain's Royal Air Force little chance against Germany's Luftwaffe, pampered darling of the Nazi high command and tempered by service in Spain's civil war.

U.S. CITIZENS ARE FREE TO JOIN R.C.A.F.

Pilots and Recruits May Join Without Taking Allegiance Oath

OTTAWA, July 18.—A spokesman for the air ministry said yesterday that United States pilots and recruits who have the necessary qualifications may join the Royal Canadian Air Force without taking the oath of allegiance.

There was no elaboration on this statement and no details were given how the obstacle to Americans enlisting in the R.C.A.F. had been overcome.

It was stated authoritatively Tuesday that the United States pilots with long flying experience already have joined the R.C.A.F.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The justice department said yesterday that United States citizens in Britain need not fear loss of citizenship by enlisting in the Royal Air Force, as long as they do not take an oath of citizenship to a foreign power.

This statement was made in commenting on information from London that "great numbers" of Americans seeking to enlist in the R.A.F. had been "graciously accepted."

Justice department officials said normally the enlistment in foreign armies was forbidden only when some portion of the action occurred within the territory or jurisdiction of the United States.

This means, it was said, that no one may enlist in foreign forces for foreign military service while either in the United States or while en route to the United States, or while en route to another to leave the United States for the purpose of enlisting abroad.

A citizen could leave on his own initiative, however.

NEW OUTCRY FROM NAZIS ON BLOCKADE

Declare the United States Must Condemn British Blockade Of Seas

BERLIN, July 18.—The tightening British blockade brought a new outcry from Germany yesterday as Nazi sources declared that if Cordell Hull, United States secretary of state, means what he says about keeping world trade lanes open he must logically condemn the blockade against Germany and Italy.

(Mr. Hull declared Tuesday, in comment on the proposed closing of the Burma road by Great Britain, a move that would favor Japan's oriental campaign—that the United States "has a legitimate interest in the keeping open of arteries of commerce in every part of the world.")

The British blockade, the Germans held, is in violation of the principle of freedom of the seas.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—German intentions that the United States should protest against the British blockade of Germany on the same grounds that it opposed the closing of the Burma road to China were rejected yesterday by State Secretary Cordell Hull.

Hull said there was no parallel between this situation and the British blockade, that nations at war have the right under international law to intercept commerce of belligerents or neutrals.

In the case of a privately-owned highway running through a nation not at war, Hull emphasized, an entirely different rule prevails.

Other officials explained that since a formal state of war does not exist between Japan and China, Japan cannot claim the same right to blockade as that possessed by European belligerents.

Wounded German Pilot Lands Plane On Soil Of Eire

PORTLINGTON, Eire, July 18.—A German pilot, severely wounded in an air battle off the west coast of England, landed his fighter plane today on the soil of County Leitrim. He was taken to hospital suffering from loss of blood.

(Portlington is 40 miles southwest of Dublin.)

Cripps Has Talk With Josef Stalin

MOSCOW, July 18.—Josef Stalin, who rarely receives foreign envoys, was reported reliably last night to have had a long talk recently with Sir Stafford Cripps, the British ambassador. The conversation aroused the deepest of interest in foreign quarters here but neither British nor Soviet officials would comment.

until it was as familiar to them as Britain. When the time came for bombings we usually could find our way through to objectives.

Fighter pilots the first Great War's "knights of the air" are a sober and workmanlike lot in the second Great War.

Gone are the day of single combat, nights of home drinking. The air ministry has steadily deprecated individual exploits. "The service on the man" is its guiding maxim.

Nevertheless fighter pilots reap the highest praise. They have accounts for most of the 2,548 German planes shot down—"known to be destroyed"—is the air ministry's phrase—from the outbreak of war to July 11. Bombers pounding airfields such as Amersfoort, Schiphol and Rotterdam's Walther have destroyed many more ground planes.

APPOINTMENTS COMING

The 2nd Divisional Artillery under General Odium is commanded by Brig. R. A. Fraser of Montreal and the 3rd by Brig. J. P. McKenzie of Toronto.

The commanders for 2nd Division Infantry brigades must be selected by August 1. The 3rd Division must be selected together with the divisional headquarters staff and commanders of the brigades and services.

No announcement has yet been made about General McNaughton's staff at headquarters of his army corps.

Organization of the 1st Division has been complete for months, organization of the 2nd Division is well advanced and while the units comprising the 3rd Division have been recruited no divisional headquarters has yet been established.

Selection of General McNaughton to command the new corps is not only a step towards the goal of a Canadian corps but a recognition of his abilities as demonstrated by the British high command during the six months in which he commanded the 1st Division in England.

If the expected German attack on England comes this summer the corps will see action under the command of ex-private soldiers.

Major-General Victor W. Odium who commands the 2nd Division is the only Canadian general in the British Expeditionary Force.

Democratic Party's Foreign Policy Plank

CHICAGO, July 18.—The Democratic party's 1940 election platform, placed before the national convention here last night, declared the United States "cannot afford heartlessly or in a spirit of appeasement to ignore the peace-loving and liberty-loving peoples wantonly attacked by ruthless aggressors."

The platform pledged that the party, if elected in the November elections, would take steps "to extend to these peoples all the material aid at our command, consistent with law and not inconsistent with the interests of our own national self-defense—when the need for peace and international good faith may yet emerge triumphant."

BRITISH M.P.'S FLAY HANDLING OF EVACUATION

Labor Speakers Criticize Postponing Of Child Evacuee Plan

LONDON, July 18.—Labor speakers took advantage of the motion for adjournment of the House of Commons last night to criticize the government for its handling of evacuation of children by sea and from Geoffrey Shakespeare, Dominions under-secretary, a statement that the military situation is the only reason for postponement.

Mr. Shakespeare, winding up the brief debate, said: "I have been instructed to carry on and make all necessary arrangements so that if the situation improves there will be delay in giving the children safe refuge. The only reason for postponement is the military situation."

SAID DISAPPOINTMENT

The postponement was announced last week because sufficient evacuee facilities could not be spared.

Mr. Shakespeare, in reply to a question said Britain would accept any offer by the United States to send American ships for the children.

The debate was launched by James Griffiths, Labor, who said the postponement was a disappointment to the country.

Children of the rich should be the last to leave Mr. Griffiths said.

"If it is impracticable to take children from all kinds of homes and classes," Mr. Griffiths said, "then the government ought to prevent well-to-do children from leaving this country."

Cabinet members whose children have been sent overseas "are showing an example which makes people feel that, after all, this is a democratic Britain," he said.

It was wrong, Mr. Griffiths said, that it was wrong to raise hopes only to have them dashed.

CHANCES ARE EQUAL

George Tomlinson, Labor, referring to a letter from Alfred Duff Cooper, minister of information, urging men in public office to help build up confidence, said he would build up confidence in his own country.

The individual who is asking me to have confidence in my country has not confidence in himself. He has no confidence in his power to defend his own children.

"I question the right of an individual to occupy a responsible position in the government and send his children out whilst other children are compelled to remain."

Replying to this attack on Mr. Duff Cooper, Mr. Shakespeare said his government is endeavoring to get members of parliament on all sides of the House only look the opportunity of sending their children in safety when the government's scheme gave workers' children the same chance.

self-defense and in good conscience, the world's greatest democracy cannot afford heartlessly to sit in a chair and applaud the peace-loving and liberty-loving peoples wantonly attacked by ruthless aggressors.

We pledged to extend to these peoples all the material aid at our command, consistent with law and not inconsistent with the interests of our own national self-defense—when the need for peace and international good faith may yet emerge triumphant.

We do not regard the need for protection as a pretext for a fringement upon our civil liberties, but on the contrary we shall continue to protect them in the keen realization that the vivid contrast between the freedom we enjoy and the dark repression which prevails in the lands where liberty is dead, affords warning and example to our people and to confirm their faith in democracy.

We must strengthen democracy by increasing our economic efficiency against aggression.

R.A.F. Studies Canal Model To Make Sure Hit

LONDON, July 18.—Airmen of the Royal Air Force who raided and severely damaged the Dortmund-Ems canal, one of the important links in Germany's internal transportation system, studied a model of the vital double aqueduct where it crosses the Rhine river, making the raid, the air ministry news service disclosed last night.

The models were constructed after reconnaissance flights.

The captain of one attacking aircraft commented: "It was not seen the model and photographs beforehand we could easily have made a mistake for there were several places more or less resembling our real target."

Photographs taken after the raid showed the double aqueduct unusable, the canal empty, and barges high and dry in mud.

Both aqueducts are subject to approval by national defense headquarters in Ottawa.

Heartbroken As Fire Destroys Dogs

ABE IRELAND, Lloydminster bachelor and famous breeder of bird dogs, was heartbroken today following a disastrous fire Tuesday evening which destroyed the main building of his kennels and resulted in the death of the greater part of his prize-winning dogs. Some of the dogs which died in the blaze are shown above in the picture with Mr. Ireland. The picture was taken in January of this year.

Lloydminster Bachelor Loses Prize Dogs When Fire Destroys Kennels

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

LLOYDMINSTER, Sask., July 18.—Prize-winning dogs valued at between $2,500 and $3,000 were burned to death Tuesday in a fire which broke out in the main building of the Lloydminster Kennels, operated by Abe Ireland.

Among the dogs destroyed were six valuable pointers headed by "Highlander" valued at $300, 12 Labrador brood females, three Labrador stud dogs and six springer spaniels, three pointer dogs and one female were saved but Mr. Ireland thinks he may have to destroy the female.

Mr. Ireland, who started breeding pure bred dogs a few years ago as a hobby, is now well known throughout Canada and the United States as a breeder of prize-winning canines, his animals being registered in the Canadian Kennel Club and the American Association. The fire cleaned his kennels out of the Irish and English setter breeds, springer spaniels and his famous pointer strain. He has some young Labrador pups, which were in another kennel, from which build up.

The cause of the fire is unknown, but it was Mr. Ireland's habit to leave a small fire under the food container while he went for dinner and it is thought that an old dog which liked to lie in the fire, was warm knotted something against the fire.

A small amount of insurance was carried on the building but none on the dogs.

Quints To Donate Army Ambulance

NORTH BAY, Ont., July 18.—The Quints quintuplets are donating an ambulance to the Canadian Red Cross. It was announced yesterday by Keith Munro, quint's business manager.

For Hitler also dreams of a Roman Empire—only his Roman Empire may be.

Already, in Spain, we can see a conflict between the two conceptions. In that unhappy country the German Gestapo is working for a German-controlled Spain, while the Russian Empire is working for a Russian-controlled Spain.

But Hitler, of course, has not found this way for any such reason.

Italian Fascism is ideologically, genuinely anti-Communist, and the idea of a Roman Empire, Fascist and Catholic, is a Vatican dream. But the radical Nazis, Goebbels, Himmler, Ribbentrop, and now, apparently Hitler himself—have found that the most effective way to get rid of Communism is to ally with the Communists. And this group for going with Russia was for the world revolution, the best means of establishing German leadership over the whole continent of Europe and eventually of the world.

What Mussolini himself may do is a matter of speculation. If the German Empire is to be a reality, he should go too strong—if he should fail to drive Germany against Russia, he will be mopped up by the Latin and the Catholic corporate state, Christian but anti-clerical—then he might go to Rome.

At any rate, the struggle is not likely to be over in the next few weeks. It is much more profound than that, and it is world-wide in eventual scope.

SOUTH JUMPER WINS NOVELTY CLASS AT FAIR

Horse From Same Stable Takes First In Heavy-weight Hunter

Sectionman, famous jumper from the Bellavia stable, Calgary, took first place in the novelty jumping class at the Edmonton Exhibition Association's summer show. Morning, from the same stable, was placed first in the heavy weight hunter class.

Morning, an old campaigner on western Canadian tracks, was retired from the turf last year and was taken into training for the jumping game by Ernie Bell, who has shown many famous jumpers at this and Calgary shows.

The Hunter Improvement Society medal for the best hunter exhibited went to Stanley Francis, a student while the champion thoroughbred mare award of the show went to Waller and Williams' Fairy.

Edmonton District Thoroughbred Society specials were won by Gold-Edna, owned by Golden Brier, stables, in the grade geld or filly class, foaled in 1937 by Sunny Soper, owned by Helmut Schuler, Volmer, in the same class foaled in 1928 and the award for filly foaled in 1940 went to H. R. Metcalfe's Lady.

The following is the full list of results in the thoroughbred and light horse classes.

Ticket to Hollywood

By W. H. PEARS

CAST OF CHARACTERS
FRANCIE WESTON—a girl with a voice and ambition to crash the movies.
GUSTY GALT—garage mechanic who can give out on a trumpet.
JERRY FINNEY—Hollywood's youngest starlet.
Yesterday, when Gusty and Francie met and sang for the Elpheth City Jam Session, movie talent scout Jerry Finney, who is a super-sleazebag and fortune-telling movie in which youngsters from all states are to be tested. Francie is to decide whether Francie or Gusty should have a ticket to Hollywood. The ticket is a ticket existing one of them to participate in the Hollywood broadcast.

CHAPTER II

It was Francie who finally broke the silence, a silence strictly their own, waiting them off from the music and chatter that filled Maw's Airport Rendezvous.
"Gusty,"
"Huh?"
"Wasn't he really here?" I mean, we didn't dream it?"
"Now," Gusty tried to sound disinterested, but his voice shook. "You can see the ticket, can't you?"
Francie nodded dreamily. "Jerry Finney," she breathed, and the name raced a chill along her spine. Gusty was deep in a reverie of his own. "I got 30 bucks in the bank," he said finally. "A guy'd have to squeeze some to get there on that."
"You!" Francie exclaimed. "What about me?"
"Don't get yourself in an uproar. Sugar. Girl singers are a dime a dozen. Good hot trumpet men are a little harder to come by. Besides, it was me who was talking to."

The ticket lay on the table between them. Gusty reached for it. "Gusty Galt, don't you take that!" Francie cried. "I'll never speak to you again!"
"Okay, Francie. No girl's going to tell me what to do."

Francie had made him the way he is. It's his defense. His mother died when he was 10. His father, a failed actor in show business and doubtless neglected to send money for Gusty's keep.
Francie stopped crying and listened wide-eyed.
John Weston continued. "I remember when the boy was holding down three jobs at once. He worked for his trumpet lessons and at the same time sold magazines and learned the garage business."
"He hadn't he such a braggart?" Aunt Hat sniffed.
"He's not a—" Francie broke off, remembering that she hated Gusty.
"The boy's only trying to sell himself, Hat."

"So you uphold him in snatching the ticket away from Francie?" Aunt Hat demanded indignantly.
"I do not," Mr. Weston retorted. "However, I will say that he probably was under the influence of the same glamorous nonsense you've been stuffing into Francie."
Aunt Hat turned acidity to her gaze. The cards snapped against the silence. Mr. Weston looked at Francie.
"Hollywood's just like Elpheth City, dear. People fall in love, marry and have babies the same as they do here. Actresses don't live on spun sugar and moonbeams. They work hard and have their sorrow the same as you and I. If you want there, you'd see for yourself."
This last had a curious effect on Aunt Hat. For the second time her cards rattled to the floor. "Oh, dear, I'm all upset," she said, and flounced up the stairs.

Later, when Francie went to her room, she found Aunt Hat sitting on the bed, reading the girl in a magazine replete with French perfume. She said, "You poor child!"
